Component, Attributes, and Styling

The image displays the Axure RP software interface, which is used for creating interactive prototypes. The interface is divided into three main sections:

- Basic Widget Palette (Left): A grid of 16 basic widgets including Link Block, Quote, Text section, Table, Custom Code, Accordion, 1 Column, 2 Columns, 3 Columns, 4 Columns, Text, and Link.
- Central Workspace: A large area showing a wireframe of a page layout. The wireframe includes a header with two columns, a main content area with a table and a list, and a footer with a text section and a link.
- Properties Panel (Right): A panel showing the properties of the selected widget. The 'Basic' tab is active, displaying various settings such as Background, For, Name, Placeholder, Value, Required, Readonly, Disabled, Onchange, Required component, Replace data, Replace input, No replace, Cbx replace label, Category, Cbx filter, Serverside, Category value, Category label, Server cbx min value, Multiple cbx, and Show cbx value.

The image displays two side-by-side screenshots of a web application's version management interface. The left screenshot shows a 'Create New Version' dialog box. It has a title bar with a close button (X). The main heading is 'Create New Version' in bold. Below it is a confirmation question: 'Are you sure that you want to create a new version?'. There is a section for 'Description' with a text input field containing the placeholder 'Version Short Description'. At the bottom right is a blue 'Create' button. The right screenshot shows a 'Switch Version' dialog box. It also has a title bar with a close button (X). The heading is 'Switch Version'. Below it is the instruction 'Select the version you want to switch to.'. There are two buttons: a blue button labeled 'v0 - Initial Version' and a red button labeled 'Delete'.
